Clinical Center, NIH

Office of Human Resources Management

The website of the Clinical Center Office of Human Resources Management, <http://ohrm.cc.nih.gov>, is the first place to look for answers to these and other personnel related questions. With over 2,000 links to a variety of human resources documents and related sites, the CC/OHRM website truly is a gateway of information. It was designed to meet the needs of CC employees and managers, administrative and human resources staff, and CC job applicants.

What can you find at <http://ohrm.cc.nih.gov>?

It all starts at the CC/OHRM home page (<http://ohrm.cc.nih.gov>). From this page, you can:

- quickly link to Current Jobs, Information for New Employees, or Forms using the buttons at the top of the page;
- focus on up-to-date human resources news by reviewing the items under Current Features;
- explore seven main categories, each with subtopics that appear when you move your cursor over a topic;
- search for specific information by typing a keyword or phrase into the Search box and pressing enter;
- visit the HR Reading Room and find other information related to Delegations of Authority, Workforce Planning, HR Data & Statistics, Diversity; and
- MUCH MORE!

So, give us a look, and click around. We are here to help if you have questions regarding the site or suggestions for improvement. To contact us e-mail ccohrm@ohrm.cc.nih.gov.
